

Wild Lavender

Product Size 5 ml Item No. 503006

Wild lavender thrives in the mountains of Provence, giving rise to some of the world's most exquisite lavender oils. These precious and rare plants have been harvested by hand in the area around Sédron, the village where Gary stayed when he first came to France to learn how to find and distil the finest plants and essential oils worldwide.

The aroma of this luxurious oil is a harmonious blend of floral notes with a slightly herbaceous undertone. It carries a captivating sweetness reminiscent of blooming meadows, interwoven with a subtle hint of earthiness that reflects its natural habitat. This unique combination creates a fragrance that is both soothing and invigorating, evoking a sense of tranquillity and connection to the untouched beauty of the wild.
