FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

Q. What is the function of Chlorella vulgaris extract?

A. Chlorella vulgaris extract is derived from seaweed and is used as a skin-conditioning agent that helps support a healthy skin microbiome.

Q. Why is the mica settling to the bottom or sticking to the sides of the bottle?

A. Since this is a natural formulation without synthetic ingredients to help suspend particles in the solution, some of the mica may settle to the bottom of the bottle or stick to the sides. This will not affect the efficacy or safety of the product. Shaking the bottle before use may help to resuspend the settled mica.

Q. What is an essence?

A. An essence is a hydrating, water-based substance that is used after cleansing/toning and before applying a serum or moisturiser. It delivers hydration and/or other targeted benefits to the skin while helping to make the serum/moisturiser you use afterward absorb better into your skin.
