A MESSAGE FROM MARY

Hello, My Friends,

I'm asking myself what happened to this year? It's already half over. Perhaps it has gone by so fast for me because the Young Living world is moving so fast. Sometimes I feel like my head is spinning with so many thoughts and ideas at the same time.

The rebirthing of Young Living, as I call it, has been fascinating and energizing. The new website and shopping platform are underway; and as we are getting acclimated, we can see how this is taking us into the world of digital marketing with its unlimited possibilities. I have often wondered how we are going to meet the needs of so much growth and expansion around the globe. However, as our Digital Transformation team has unveiled new programs to simplify shopping and help make our business building so much easier, I have felt a calmness knowing that these changes are taking us into unlimited future growth.

I loved the convention this year. Rise Above—what a perfect theme. The stage was an experience of color and beauty with exquisite music that seemed to take us to another world. It's time to rise above negativity, above sad circumstances beyond our control, and spread an energy of positivity, hope, and happiness for the opportunity to reach beyond, restart, reignite, and re-energize our purpose to fulfill our divine destiny.

I was totally enveloped in the idea of discovering who we are and what our divine destiny is, which carries the feeling of service—service to mankind with God's gift of essential oils. We are blessed with many gifts that affect so many facets of life, but my focus is on our mission of essential oils in every home, to strengthen and uplift those people in the world looking for a better way to have health, happiness, and abundance.

When we formulated the trio of blends in Divine Destiny[™], I felt a new kind of awareness, a new kind of enlightenment that was elevating and expanding in thought and action. Gary always said that you must put the energy of thought into motion to create your reality. That statement seems a little beyond our understanding for many of us, which is why we created the Divine Destiny Collection.

A new book is coming out by Robert Tennyson Stevens titled My Word Made Flesh. It's a very unusual title that brings curiosity and is about learning how your words can help create your reality—again, Gary's direction of putting energy in motion. But in this book, we learn about our products and their ability or purpose to help us expand our minds and understand our state of being in an energetic way—the evolution of energy.

Do you think I'm talking in circles? Just read it and learn for yourself. It's all an adventure of discovery in a world that is new for many of us. Gary was my introduction into the world of words and thoughts to create your destiny. He taught how important, energetically, essential oils are in supporting that creation. That was over 25 years ago when there wasn't so much enlightenment on the planet. But that is changing, and we are waking up to the power that we carry within us and are learning how our oils can assist in that awakening.

I shared the Divine Destiny Collection with many people before we even created our beautiful labels; but now that these blends have been introduced to the market, I am receiving many messages with such a variety of experiences. I'd like to share a portion of two experiences with you that are uniquely different and that might give you some insight into your journey. Because these testimonials were the earliest I received, we were able to film our members telling their own story for the convention, so perhaps you have already heard them. This is only the beginning of the path that many will walk, a beginning that is uplifting to all of us.

Pamela Hunter, March 30, 2021

My personal experience with the Divine Destiny Collection: Daily Divine[™], I Am Blessed[™], and I Am Creative[™] have reminded me how fun it is to be in the wonder and awe of consciously feeling unique and secure in the hands of God.

My life's work has been teaching myself and others how to read and listen to our own bodies and be more in our spiritual expression on this journey of life. Since I have been layering this trio for a few months every morning, my intuition and spontaneity have heightened to a whole new level of awakened awareness.

My passion is enhanced and aligned for my greater good and all I meet in Daily Divine timing.

My blessings guide my intuition: I Am Blessed. I wake up with a creative mind: I Am Creative.

I see things and they manifest quickly. My daily activities feel more fulfilling and aligned with how and where I am called to serve.

I feel I have been touched by Gary in an etheric way. As you experience this trio, keep in mind that we are the Young Living family that is growing with all who believe and live in alignment with their Daily Divine passion, blessings of faith, and creative love.

Marcella Vonn Harting, April 5, 2021

I believe when we enter this life, we have a soul plan for our life purpose. The unique expression of who we are has a specific reason for being here on the planet right now. Some of us may not always know that reason, but by living authentically, that purpose in our journey will be revealed.

The Divine Destiny Collection was created to work together synergistically as we walk that path of self-discovery. After three days of layering the oils, I experienced a tingling sensation at the same time on the top of my head in the evenings, which continued for three days. I was very aware that the number three was very consistent in my personal journey and remembering the specific teachings from D. Gary Young, which has enhanced my awareness in all aspects of life.

I have been consciously aware of my intuition and the whisperings of that small voice from the Spirit all my life. After the three days of activation layering these blends, I experienced a heightened awareness of my intuition and my dreams, which has become a daily experience. Using the oils in this way has allowed me to interface and connect with the natural abundance of the Cosmic Plan and supports me in aligning with my destiny. Join me in this new journey of enlightenment as you align consciously with your divine destiny.

What beautiful stories. I was uplifted when I read them and wanted to share this insight with all of you. I look at this as an evolution of our knowing, perhaps a new way of doing things with a positive attitude and heartfelt determination to reach our goals while we strive to improve our lives and serve others around us in strengthening our purpose and achieving our divine destiny.

With love and gratitude,

Mary Young

IN MEMORY OF GARY: MAKE A DIFFERENCE THIS INTERNATIONAL ESSENTIAL OILS DAY

Young Living will honor Gary's legacy by donating to student scholarships

International Essential Oils Day (IEOD) takes place on July 11 in honor of Young Living Founder D. Gary Young's birthday. Gary devoted his life to sharing nature's most precious gift and kindled a global movement that touches the lives of millions. He also knew what it was like to come from nothing and spent significant time and resources helping students living in vulnerable circumstances.

Often described as a modern pioneer, Gary took on many roles throughout his life, including innovator, historian, and explorer. He pursued ancient practices involving herbs, plants, and trees to unlock the full potential of essential oils. His research took him to remote corners of the earth as he sought to better understand these oils and all they had to offer. Gary dedicated 35 years to studying them and perfecting ways to extract oils, all while building a billion-dollar global business designed to share this gift with the world.

Gary also relished the role of philanthropist. While starting the Finca Botanica Farm and Distillery in Ecuador, Gary stumbled across a cinderblock building with no water, electricity, or bathrooms and discovered it was a school for 42 children. This was a turning point for Gary. He had driven past that building every day on his way to the farm, and he decided he wouldn't just drive by anymore. He built the Young Living Academy near there. Thirteen years later, it educates nearly 350 students a year, opening up a world of educational opportunities to them that may have otherwise been out of reach.

That's why to honor Gary, the movement he started, and the legacy he left behind, Young Living will donate a portion of global sales from July 10-11 to the D. Gary Young Global Leadership Fund. This fund provides scholarships to exemplary graduates of the Young Living Academy in Ecuador, as well as advanced education scholarships to students around the world.

When Gary passed away in 2018, he left behind a global community and a legacy of devotion to people and the planet. We know it would make him proud to see all the money raised to help these students pursue their dreams.

We hope that you will also add your own personal touch to IEOD by planting something, discovering a new essential oil, or sharing an essential oil with a friend who might need it. When you do, please share how you celebrated IEOD on social media with the hashtags #IEOD and #internationalesentialoilsday.

YL LEADS THE WAY WITH STATE-OF-THE-ART STEAM GENERATORS

Highland Flats Distillery upgrades its equipment in a big way

Young Living's Highland Flats Distillery has taken a huge leap forward in distillation efficiency by installing a state-of-the-art industrial steam generator, leading the way yet again in the most efficient practices in the essential oils industry.

While there are certainly financial benefits to the increased efficiency these new steam generators afford us, the true motivation here comes from our Seed to Seal® quality commitment, which requires us to seriously contend with our impact on the environment and our proper stewardship of it.

Industry-leading manufacturer Clayton Industries was able to help the farm transition away from our older boiler system to a rapid, on-demand steam generator, resulting in significant production efficiencies. For every 2.2 pounds of essential oils produced by this improved system, we are able to save 37 percent on fuel and energy usage.

These new Clayton steam generators are so efficient, in fact, that we decided to install not one but two at the distillery. One will be running as the main workhorse, while the second will be available as backup during times of high production or in the unlikely scenario of a technical malfunction.

When the new Clayton 150 horsepower steam generator solution went into production, the distillery's efficiency skyrocketed, resulting in incredible energy savings. With this new system, steam doesn't need to be generated full time, allowing us to shut off the system instead of having to run it 24/7. In fact, the new Clayton steam generators are so efficient that they can go from completely cold to full-steam output in approximately five minutes, making it possible for us to be far more strategic in our energy use. Other systems are often required to be on at all times.

In time, we plan to convert two more Young Living farms over to these new steam generators, saving even more energy and allowing us to continue to lead the industry in environmental stewardship.

One Voice™ essential oil blend: We released the Foundation's newest essential oil blend, One Voice. The warm, liberating, and inspiring aroma of One Voice sets the scene to feel a deeper sense of belief, faith, self-confidence, and courage. The label of this blend was designed by a survivor of human trafficking living at a Foundation-sponsored Hope for Justice Lighthouse in Cambodia. Like the One Heart essential oil blend, 35 percent of the One Voice blend wholesale price will be donated to the Foundation to continue efforts ending exploitation around the world.

Six new Foundation artisan bundles: The Foundation is proud to have partnered with five women-led artisan groups from around the world to bring you six new VIGC-exclusive bundles! These items were handcrafted by women artisans from Uganda to the United States. Additionally, fulfilling these orders for Young Living created 535,202 fair-pay hours for 1,473 women living across five countries, caring for an estimated 5,912 dependents. You will love the way these items brighten your home and make beautiful, thoughtful gifts for your friends and family. Proceeds from the sale of these items are invested back into the Foundation, allowing us to impact more communities around the world.

Run for a Cause 5K: We were so inspired by the 5,726 of you joining us from 45 different countries, all running, walking, rollerblading, and biking to help build the futures of our Young Living global scholars. Thank you for being the heroes you are and helping us raise over $180,000.

SUPPORTING DISTANCE LEARNING IN NAVAJO AND GOSHUTE NATIONS

Introducing a new Young Living Foundation partner

Over the past year, students living on Native American reservations in Utah, USA, have been especially affected by the transition to distance learning. Many of these students live in homes that lack the infrastructure necessary for successful distance learning, leaving some students 8–18 months behind in school.

Heart of America is a national nonprofit that focuses on transforming learning environments and distributing distance learning education kits to ensure all children have the resources they need to succeed. The D. Gary Young, Young Living Foundation is proud to team up with Heart of America for a three-phase partnership that begins with providing 1,000 distance learning education kits to help students in Navajo and Goshute nations overcome the academic slide they’ve experienced during the transition to distance learning.

Forty Young Living employees gathered at Young Living’s Global Headquarters at the beginning of May to assemble the kits, which included school supplies, STEM activities, age-appropriate books, Thieves® Waterless Hand Sanitizer, and a solar lantern to allow students to continue learning after sundown. These kits were delivered to students from Tooele School District, Urban Indian Center of Salt Lake, Aneth Community School, Montezuma Creek Elementary School, Tse’bii’nidzizgai Elementary, and Bluff Elementary. Jill Heath, CEO of Heart of America, mentions that “the students who will receive the kits are some of the 60,000 individuals throughout Navajo and Goshute nations who don’t have stable access to power. Most don’t have internet access either.”

Students in Native American communities are equipped with educational resources.

Phase two of this partnership will include outfitting 100 student homes that don’t currently have electricity with solar panels, Wi-Fi hotspots, and computer tablets. Phase three will include the transformation of an education space at White Horse High School in Montezuma Creek, Utah.

The Foundation offers its thanks to all the donors who make impacts like this possible, as well as the employees who helped with phase one of this important project. We look forward to continuing to partner with you in empowering young people around the world.

YL’S FOCUS ON SUSTAINABILITY YIELDS A HARVEST OF GREEN AWARDS

Rising Above by placing planet over profit

As the standard-bearer for the modern essential oils movement, it’s only natural that Young Living takes our stewardship of the planet seriously—and just as natural for others to notice.

During the past few years, we’ve stepped up our already significant efforts to help keep our planet gorgeous and thriving. We’ve become 99 percent landfill-free at our warehouse distribution center, adopted a product packaging pledge designed to significantly reduce excess packaging, achieved zero-waste water conservation at our Mona farm, implemented a no-contact recycling program, used zero-till farm techniques to eliminate the need for fossil fuels to power equipment, and partnered with The Nature Conservancy to create an 11,597-acre conservation easement.

These widespread efforts on Mother Earth’s behalf haven’t gone unnoticed by the community. We’re honored to have received numerous awards during the last few years recognizing our leadership in sustainable practices and our visibility as a green leader in our industry. These awards include:

- 2019 Utah Business Magazine: Green Business Award
- 2019 Recycler of the Year Award
- 2019 SEAL Business: Sustainability Award
- 2020 Silver Stevie Award: Corporate Social Responsibility Program of the Year
- 2020 Utah Business: Green Business Award
- 2020 Business Intelligence Group Awards: The BIG Awards for Business—Green Company of the Year

In 2019 we also unveiled our new Global Headquarters, which recently earned two coveted Green Globes. A Green Globe is a certification that is nationally recognized as a green rating system built on stringent requirements to ensure sustainability and efficiency. Our headquarters is the first building in Utah County—and only the third in all of the state of Utah—to earn more than one Green Globe.

D. GARY YOUNG’S FIRST ESSENTIAL OIL BLENDS

In 1985 Gary made history by creating the first essential oil blends

It’s impossible to see how far Young Living has come—wrapping up our second Virtual International Grand Convention, celebrating our fourth International Essential Oils Day on July 11, marking 28 years of business—and not think of Founder D. Gary Young’s legacy. His innovative spirit not only led to the founding of Young Living but also to the essential oils industry. The beginnings of that legacy can be found in the creation of essential oil blends, particularly Gary’s first three creations: R.C.™, Inspiration™, and Valor®.

R.C., Gary’s first essential oil blend, includes Marjoram, Cypress, Pine, Spruce, Lavender, Myrtle, and all four of the Eucalyptus essential oils. Gary recommended massaging it onto the throat and chest. “R.C. is a really beautiful formula,” he said. “It is one that a person would want to carry with them wherever they go to promote the sensation of deeper breathing.”

Inspiration essential oil blend came from a combination of oils—Sandalwood, Myrrh, Frankincense, Cedarwood, and Spruce—used in both Middle Eastern and Western spiritual practices. Originally called Prayer & Meditation, Gary changed the name so it would translate more easily into other languages. Gary suggested putting three drops on the temples and feet before praying or meditating. “These oils stimulate the mind,” he explained, “and bring us into that space of doing what is right to help us find inner peace.”

To round out this groundbreaking set of early essential oil blends, Gary created Valor, a blend of Frankincense, Black Spruce, Blue Tansy, Camphor Wood, and Geranium. He said the best place to apply this blend is to the feet. “It balances physically, spiritually, and emotionally,” Gary said. “You could say I made Valor for me. I find it keeps my mind very alert and in tune.”

Gary created these blends in 1985, before they were even called “blends.” Initially, Gary referred to them as “combinations,” which is just one example of how Gary, creating language for innovations that didn’t exist prior to his work, built the essential oils industry from the ground up. These first three creations are now some of our most classic, beloved blends that draw so many people to Young Living.

VIGC WATCH PARTY & VIRTUAL 5K RUN 2021

Together YLHK members and staff had fun

The 2021 Virtual International Grand Convention (VIGC) was held successfully last month! We were so excited to have our members gathering their teams and hosting their very own VIGC Watch Parties, to enjoy inspiring messages, exciting product launches, and educational content in this year’s convention.

Besides that, in order to support the Young Living Foundation, many of our members registered for the 2021 Virtual 5K run, a meaningful event to help and empower students around the world who are pursuing college or technical training post-graduation.

Our staff joined the members in these fun events and had a pleasant time. Thank you for all your support and see you next year!
