

PRODUCT SUMMARY

Beautifully bold, with a gracefully balanced blend of exotic Assam and pu'erh teas, Young Living's Orange Rosehip Black Tea is the get up and go for every girl and guy boss. With a full-bodied, earthy aroma, this tea's fragrance is nearly as delectable as its carefully crafted ingredients.

Prominent top notes of orange gently segue into a subtle flavor of honey that finishes with the simple, comforting taste of rosehip. This tea is specifically formulated to pair with Young Living essential oils; add a drop or two of Lemon Vitality™ to your cup for an elevated experience that will delight the senses. Sustainably sourced, Young Living's Orange Rosehip Black Tea offers you the morning boost you deserve!

KEY INGREDIENTS

- Organic, pu'erh tea
- Organic Assam black tea
- Organic herbs and roots, including licorice root, rosehip, Assam black tea, and pu'erh tea

EXPERIENCE

A warm, comforting fusion of orange, rosehip, and honey, this delectable black tea blend is the kick start your morning's been missing.

PRODUCT BACKGROUND

Always searching for the best nature has to offer, Young Living combined two exquisite black teas for our bold and full-bodied Orange Rosehip Black Tea. Originating in China, pu'erh tea has a flavor that is as rich as its history. Often enjoyed by Chinese emperors, the tender pu'erh tea leaves are hand-plucked, sun dried, and slightly aged for a distinct, earthy flavor. The Assam black tea in this blend is grown in the prestigious Jalinga Tea Estate in India. This globally esteemed tea farm has over 1,500 acres of land dedicated to sustainable tea cultivation. The estate utilizes no fertilizers or pesticides and has been recognized as the world's first 100 percent organic and carbon-neutral tea operation.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

Q. Can Orange Rosehip Black Tea also be served as iced tea?

A. Yes! You'll enjoy the same benefits and rich flavor whether you serve Orange Rosehip Black Tea as a hot, comforting drink or cold, refreshing beverage.

Q. How much caffeine is in Orange Rosehip Black Tea?

A. Orange Rosehip Black Tea contains only about half the amount of caffeine found in a single serving of coffee —just enough to give you an extra boost.

Q. Are the tea leaves sustainably sourced?

A. Yes! Our Assam tea comes from our producers at the Jalinga Tea Estate, the first 100 percent organic and carbon-neutral tea operation in the world. These facilities are dedicated to sustainable tea farming and renewable energy. Our pu'erh tea leaves are harvested from the Wuliang Mountains of Yunnan, China, from thriving trees in outstanding conditions.
