

HOST A SUCCESSFUL SPRING LAUNCH 2020 EVENT

LOCATION

Find a space that works for your event. Some cost-effective suggestions include your home, backyard, local library, church, school, or hotel meeting room.

Make sure the location has what you need—technology, equipment, adequate space for your audience, etc.

TIP: Ask if you can access the location a day or two before the event to test equipment, plan your setup, and feel more comfortable in the space.

PROMOTE

Invite your team and others to attend your event. We suggest creating an electronic invitation or spreadsheet to help document your list of attendees. You'll need to share the link to this invitation when you register your event.

Register your event, and we'll add you to the host email list for updates and collateral to promote your event.

TIP: Plan a giveaway, DIY project, or additional trainings for your event to increase attendance.

PRE-EVENT

Use the sample agenda as a template to create your personalized event agenda.

Ask leaders in your area to speak or give a training at your event.

Plan interactive games, quizzes, or contests to keep your audience engaged. Check out the Young Living Blog, The Lavender Life, for some fun ideas!

Order products from our NingXia Red® line to set up your own NingXia bar. You can charge for drinks and donate proceeds to The D. Gary Young, Young Living Foundation or keep them to recover some of your hosting costs.

TIP: Participate in Young Living training, calls, and email communications created specifically for Spring Launch 2020 hosts for more helpful hints!
