FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

Q. Is Thieves Foaming Hand Soap safe for children to use?

A. Yes! Thieves Foaming Hand Soap is gentle enough for the whole family to use.

Q. How is the foam created in Thieves Foaming Hand Soap?

A. The foam comes from cocamidopropyl hydroxysultaine and a specialized foam pump. Cocamidopropyl hydroxysultaine is a surfactant made from coconuts that is designed to gently cleanse skin. When the foam pump is pressed up and down, the pump mixes the hand soap liquid with air to create long-lasting, non-irritating foam.

Q. Why is alcohol used as an ingredient in Thieves Foaming Hand Soap?

A. The alcohol helps blend the ingredients together in the formula so they distribute evenly. Alcohol also helps preserve the formula and fight germs. The alcohol in Thieves Foaming Hand Soap is denatured by treating it with Cinnamon Bark essential oil to prevent people from consuming it orally. Topical use of alcohol treated with essential oils is non-toxic. Most companies denature alcohol with chemical additives, but we use essential oils to create a better alternative to other products available on the market.
