FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

Q. Why does Valor Deodorant have an emphasis on being paraben free?

A. Parabens are a widely used, chemically derived preservative found in multiple cosmetic and personal care items. Young Living's Valor Deodorant utilizes no harsh chemicals, leaving you with an all-natural odor-absorbing product.

Q. What is the difference between a deodorant and antiperspirant?

A. While the terms "deodorant" and "antiperspirant" tend to be used interchangeably, there is a distinct difference between the two. Deodorants help reduce the level of daily underarm odor, while antiperspirants typically contain chemical ingredients such as aluminum salts to plug the body's natural ducts and contract the skin's pores. Young Living's Valor Deodorant is free from aluminum.

Q. Is there any alcohol in Valor Deodorant?

A. No, Valor Deodorant has no alcohol. Rather than utilizing an agent that can further dry or irritate sensitive skin, Young Living's Valor Deodorant contains arrowroot powder, a natural odor-absorbing agent.
